

IMAGE USE TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The following statement applies to all image usage, excluding professional photography.

All images are the property of Perkins Eastman and are protected under United States and international copyright laws.

The term "Image" or "Images" shall imply all imagery and related informational materials in any medium furnished by Perkins Eastman hereunder, including related text and captions. The term "Images" shall also include, but is not limited to, all in-house photographs, plans, renderings, and/or other project-related graphics. "Images" does not include professional photography taken by a contracted photographer.

Unless otherwise specified, for editorial uses all images shall include a credit adjacent to each image using the following format: "Courtesy Perkins Eastman."

Use of any image as the basis for another concept or illustration is a violation of copyright laws and will be prosecuted. Use of any image other than as specified is not permitted. Redistribution or transfer of ownership of any image is not permitted.
